“ My thoughts and prayers go out to the Folkman family. I am so sorry for your loss. Ron was always so nice and friendly and fun. He was like family to us growing up. Like my sister, I remember when Ron was in town, visiting for work, and he would stay at our house and he and Floyd wrote music and played their guitars all night. Sometimes John Gunther was there and they really rocked the house. A couple months ago David and I were visiting Floyd and we listened to all the music they wrote together and had produced. I had no idea of all the songs they wrote. It was amazing. Floyd made me a CD of all the music. It was fun to hear about the good old days and their stories. I will cherish these songs and share them with my family. Thinking of you all at this difficult time and sending my deepest sympathy. Love,
Jennifer Lindenmuth

“ Thinking of the family during this difficult loss and sending many hugs. I will forever remember listening to Ron and Floyd sing and write music every time they were together. When Ron would come to Seattle for work, he and Floyd would spend hours signing and laughing. I would fall asleep at night with the sound of their voices and the strumming of the guitar echoing down the hall. I always looked forward to Ron's visits; his humor, love of music and commitment to friends and family is what I will always remember about Ron. Love you Ron! Love, Laurie Newton (Floyd's daughter)

“ Dear Folkman family,
It has been many years since I have seen cousin Ron. The last time was probably when he trekked to Logan to visit his parents or brothers and pay Woodrow and Francis Brown a visit. Among my most favorite aunts and uncles was Dave and Isabell and making summer trips with them and Ron's younger brother Ken. I can remember how sad Ron was to lose his grandson. Now they can be together in heaven. My prayers include your family and his dear wife who struggles herself in health.

With much sympathy,
