“ Irene was my Girl Scout Troop leader for many years. She worked tirelessly to make sure our troop sold enough cookies so that every girl could go to summer camp, organized activities so that every girl had the opportunity to earn every badge (I did and I have the sash to prove it!). Many of those activities contributed to our community in one form or another. (I remember a hot summer day spent picking up trash from a roadway and singing to elderly folks at a retirement home). She taught me the virtues of hard work and their rewards. Thank you and bless you, Irene.
