“ It's really true that it takes a village to raise children. Anne helped raise me. In Spangle, everyone knew about everyone else. Anne always complimented me when I did something good and she frowned when I did something not so good. She would always say "now David, what will your mother say?" I knew she had my best interest at heart.

Memories of Anne, Vern, Doug and Bert and her pioneer family history will always be part of me.
