“ I met Kyle as the College Hill beat officer for Pullman PD. He was such an amazing young man and was always there when I needed something. I have met very few individuals of his character in this life. You could come to him with anything and he was willing to help. So kind and level headed. He was one who gave hope for the future. They don't make them like Kyle much anymore. I just heard the news tonight while speaking with some members of PKT. I'm at a loss. I'll see you in ValHalla my friend.

“ Here’s a few videos I have of Kyle. I used to do this thing where I would spontaneously ask him for a quote of the day to catch him off guard. I’ve watched these 100 times by now. What I love about these are that they show his sense of humor, wit, thoughtfulness and friendship.

He was on my “life board of directors”, the handful of people I would reach out to with really important life issues and life changing decisions. He was my “business & pursuit of passion” board member. We often talked life, projects, about Macy (& my wife) and about how decisions we made would affect our partners. He loved his wife so deeply and still does. He was constantly amazed by her and very VERY proud of her.

He was the person that reminded me I can always learn from people younger than me. I learned that early on in getting to know him and have carried that with me since. It’s been incredibly helpful.

I love and miss my friend and brother.

“ Kyle was one of the first guys I met in Operators Association, he was our first official class leader at our second crucible event. From the moment you met him, you loved him - he was a natural born leader, and kind in every way. There's not many men you meet in life that you would want in your foxhole, but Kyle was absolutely that man.

Beyond the crucible events, he brought value and helped many men and women as they prepared for their careers in Special Operations, he faced incredible challenges and overcame them all with courage and tenacity that is rare in today's culture. He was a man of integrity in the fullest and he would have been an excellent Green Beret.

His operators association family is devastated to learn of this loss, we'd like to connect with and support Macy in any way we can through this terrible time. In the mean time our thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ I loved and admired Kyle. I met him when he was an undergraduate at WSU. He held several officer roles at Phi Kappa Theta fraternity, leading with energy, vision and compassion. I was the Board Chair for the PKT alumni group managing the chapter. Kyle's work ethic and dedication to the brotherhood led to many national awards for Phi Kappa Theta. I'll always remember Kyle sitting with Seahawks owner Paul Allen (a fellow Phi Kap) in DC when we won the Fraternity of the Year award. They discussed their appreciation for what PKT meant in their lives and laughed over stories from their WSU years. Kyle worked hard with the men of the chapter and documented the fraternity's accomplishments which led to that award.

Paul was so proud that the house he built was succeeding in developing young men like Kyle. I was blessed to have many conversations with Kyle over the years, including hearing of his excitement about joining an elite group in the Washington National Guard. I was fortunate to know of his great love for family, especially Macy, as well his love for country, and his Phi Kappa Theta brothers. I will miss Kyle O'Malley very dearly.

“ I am in shock as I am writing this. When I moved to Washington and started school at Liberty, Kyle was one of the first friends I made and he was always so positive, nice, and funny. He made a great life for himself and I am so sorry to the loved ones that are grieving right now. You will be missed.

“ You were always such a bubbly, outgoing person in high school. I remember thinking how does one person have so much joy and passion as a high schooler 🥰. Your joyful morning announcements over the intercom senior year is something that sticks out the most in my head.
RIP Kyle
