

Lulu Marie Flowerdew

November 10, 1934 - March 5, 2026

Lulu Marie Flowerdew (Day), 91, of Cheney, Washington, died at Cheney Care Center on March 5, 2026. Lulu was born on November 10, 1934, in South Dakota to the late Floyd Presely and Mary Lavina Day. She had four siblings, Lila Plummer, Merle Day, Leslie Day, and Melvin Day. The family moved to Oregon when Lulu was young.

Lulu met her beloved husband of 71 years, Marvin, in Dallas, Oregon, and they were married on August 20, 1954, in Dallas, Oregon. They started their life together in the Eugene, Oregon area, where Marvin worked as an auto mechanic and later as a teacher. They soon welcomed their daughter, Sharon, and then their son, David. They were active members of their church community in Oregon. In 1988, Marvin and Lulu moved to Calais, Maine, where they pastored St. Croix Valley Assembly of God for 26 years before moving to Cheney, Washington in 2014.

Lulu's greatest values in life were her relationship with God and her love for her family. Quiet and soft-spoken, she was a woman of faith and prayer, a beautiful example of always trusting God for every need. She was a devoted wife, mother, and grandmother, who loved being with her children and grandchildren more than anything else. She was known for the delicious pies she made in large quantities for holiday celebrations, a favorite family memory. For many years, she and Marvin took a walk together every day, and their closeness and care for each other throughout their lives was a beautiful thing. Lulu will be remembered for her love, faithfulness, and unwavering dedication to God and her family.

Lulu was preceded in death by her siblings Lila Plummer, Merle Day, Leslie Day, and Melvin Day. She is survived by her husband, Marvin Flowerdew; daughter, Sharon Lowry (Burton); son, David (Trish); grandchildren, Anna Becker, Jonathan Lowry, Michelle Joy, Michael Lowry, and Natalie Flowerdew; and six great-grandchildren.

A celebration of life service for Lulu will be held on March 14, 2026, at 10 a.m. at Amazing Grace Fellowship, 416 W. Betz Road in Cheney, WA.
