“ Beth was a caring soul with such a warm, welcoming heart. She showed love and kindness and compassion to everyone that crossed her path. My children couldn't keep away from her while we were neighbors. They just adored her! She was like their bonus grandma across the street.

She fought every day for so long that there is peace knowing God has her and He knew it was time for her new beginning. Our family will miss her dearly and will always remember the special woman she was.

I met Beth and John Good when I first moved to Spokane. They were one of the few people who came over to greet us. John and Beth was the BEST and GREATEST neighbors anyone can ask for. Beth was very loving and amazing to my kids and myself, she treated them with love and respect as if they were one of hers. Since I met her she's been a fighter she fought a long hard battle. She will be dearly missed . Sleep in peace Beth you will always be in my prayers.

Heaven has gained a new angel! Beth (Guiby, as she was called to many) was a lifelong friend. I have pictures of birthday parties when I was young, and Beth is in every one of them. We always remembered each other's birthday because she was an exact month older than me. Our adult years found us going separate paths, raising children. About 9 years ago our paths crossed again when we met up for lunch with another friend out in Washington. It was like no time had passed between us, and we shared so many laughs & memories. A few years later, my family threw a surprise party out in Washington for me. I was shocked seeing Beth & John and another friend & husband there...just like old times! She will be missed. My condolences to John, Andrew, Sara, & Jane. May our memories of Beth bring comfort & smiles to our hearts!

My Aunt Beth was the most gentle soul with the sweetest disposition. Even during her own health battle she reached out to others that were battling to give them a boost without ever mentioning her own struggle. The world would be better with more people as sweet as Beth. Grandma Ann will be so happy to see her.

Beth fought a valiant battle over the last 5 years with the help and support of John, their family and friends. Chris and I were blessed to know and keep in touch with John and Beth since high school. Beth and I were diagnosed with our respective cancers about a month apart from one another in early 2015. We were cancer buddies for the time we were going through our treatments encouraging and praying for one another, sharing homeopathic strategies to deal with side effects from our chemotherapies. After our initial treatments were over, we both held onto the hope we were cancer free. Unfortunately, Beth's cancer returned sometime about a year or so afterwards. We will always treasure our friendship with Beth and her family. Our prayers are with her family and all who were blessed by knowing Beth (Guiberson) Good.
