“ Just learned of the loss of Wilma. I remember her as a teen, then a newlywed, a Mom, and as one of my happiest and funniest cousins. She made family reunions and memorials to other family members a time of joy, love and laughter. Now all of my Aunt Goldie's children are with her again. Rest in peace, my cousin...

“ My Aunt Wilma sure would light up a room. She and my Uncle Bill both have larger than life personalities. She was exuberance! She filled our times together with life, laughter and love. She always knew how to have a good time... that sparks a memory. At our wedding my Wendland family was having a pretty good time. So much so that Aunt Wilma needed help into the car. Shortly after she left, we discovered a shoe. A shoe that none of us noticed while helping Wima to the car. It was all a hilarious scene that kept us laughing long after she left the party.

While Aunt Wilma may have left this party, her love and joy lives on in us. Peace.

“ Wilma, From the day we met you it has been so perfect to have you as our neighbor/friend. You always made me laugh, so enjoyable to visit, and I knew your door was always open for Kylie while I was at work. You always looked out for us and even really late at night we loved getting calls from you knowing you were watching out for us. Steve and I both came from small towns growing up and had friends and family always close but moving to Spokane it never felt like home until we moved next to you (and Bill) and those good home feels came back. We are going to miss you and our visits but only till later we will see again!

“ My grandma Wilma was an incredible woman. When I was little, I always enjoyed helping her prepare breakfast for the family, even though I was only in charge of cracking the eggs. I will never forget the time she tried to teach me how to crochet, but it ended up being more complicated than we both imagined. I will miss staying up late with her, talking, and listening to her tell me stories or give me advice. She taught me a lot about life, and I am grateful for all the time we spent together and the special connection we had. I love and miss you, grandma.

“ Wilma, my forever friend. How do you say goodbye to someone to whom you have shared over 75 years of your life? Someone you couldn't wait to tell about happy, funny times. Someone you could count on in times of sorrow. I will miss you so much but you will always be with me in my heart.

“ Wilma was such a force of a woman. I was lucky enough to know her and from the moment we met she was nothing but kind, loving, and funny. She treated me like I was her own family and I will never forget her kindness and support. I was able to spend a summer with her and share so many laughs and memories with her, and I will never forget how special that time was. Wilma's legacy will live on. I see her huge heart and love for others in her daughter, Gina. I see her fiery spirit and amazing sense of humor in her granddaughter, Demi. Wilma truly was one of a kind and is so dearly missed.

Wilma was always kind to myself and my little family. She treated me like a friend and she was so easy to be friends with. I miss her so much this is hard to write. I thought she would out live me, her vibrancy was contagious.

“ Wilma (Sue) was the big sister I never had, becoming part of our family when I was 5 or 6. Even after we moved away we stayed close. As a teen I spent the summer babysitting and just hanging out with one of my favorite people ever. Even when years would go by without seeing each other we would have so many things alike, clothes, makeup, things in our houses. We would go shopping and pull the same thing off the rack. I would not love her more if she was a blood sister. She was my soul sister. Love you Wilma Jean.
